this issue of portfolio is dedicated to MR. E. DEAN FARNSWORTH who for thirty four years has devoted himself to the task of maintaining the physical assets, in the form of buildings and grounds and all things found therein, that make up the rhode island school of design. he has coped with all manner of student and faculty requests for items lost, strayed or nonexistent and managed to find, build or buy in answer. the walks are cleared in winter and the rooms are painted in the summer. no problem has proved too difficult for him to handle. this year MR. FARNSWORTH will retire from his position as superintendent of buildings and grounds. he will be missed by all of us. we take this opportunity to wish him well in the years to come.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

i speak on behalf of the trustees, the administration and the faculty. it is our earnest wish that the years ahead will see the hopes that you entertained at entrance fulfilled. what you do, what you become will be of continuing interest to us and our successors. your success will be our success. the reputation of the institution rests with its alumni.

one of the more curious phenomena you may have recognized at some point during your design education is the effect of repetitive cycles. a subtle but perceivable pattern of recurring sounds, or shapes, or events forms the framework of most good music, good design—even the universe itself.

in a more prosaic vein, you may recognize a series of progressions that have brought you from elementary to junior high school, from freshman to senior, back to freshman and on to senior in college. right now you have "worked your way up to freshman" in the professional world. this is an important milestone because the cycles from here on are less formal—and even less predictable. much depends on your personal effort and skill in continuing this development process.

risd and its alumni association, like you and other individuals, are subject to the cyclical effects of progress. the association is your link with the college and the many friends you've made during the past few years. beyond that, each of us in the association reflects the character of the institution. groups, in the final analysis, are measured and evaluated in terms of individuals. congratulations on your achievement and welcome to your new freshman status. risd itself is a freshman in the ranks of accredited colleges. we welcome you as alumni with the hope that your active help and support will add to the growing stature and maturity of the college.

and then there was ~~the~~ vibrato. the spirit of take-break indeed? divine, magnificent, terrific? no, no quite. just fun. and of this fun, what do we ~~remember~~ remember? a rainy night, the Sheraton hotel, fifteen ~~th~~ high floors up, a ballroom resplendent with huge scarlet curtains. dancing feet, happy faces, but too many of them at the bar. maynard teguson, a tuneful horn. on and on, around and around. then stop! wait! hush! Someone says good evening and there's a girl. that nice ~~young~~ ~~young~~ young jeannie with her smiling heart new crown of ^{pearls} upon her head. laughter clap and long live our queen! - good night sweet heart until we meet tomorrow. two blue ticks show imprinted upon their stubs, to settle down, to do nothing to watch and expect. white lights go out, red lights go on. vibrant unfolds colored panels slide back, music dies down down and a young man with a ~~twinkle~~ twinkle in his eye says welcome at his side stands the girl. jeanne clark and charles and you're glad, you like them. bang, the russion baller flying overshoes and dancing ribbons. a small girl with large voice could have danced all night. a little man with black hair and cinderella. yes, i remember, and too soon the dancing quiets, the music fades. sliding panels move again and the curtain comes down. hurry, back up fifteen floors, and dance some more until near dawn. Pleasant, to sit on the floor and simply listen gerry mulligan fast and ~~slow~~ now slow, loud and then soft. the rippling piano and you know the party is over it didn't take long, but perhaps long enough. vibrato is gone but we will not forget. the spirit of take-a-break indeed! magnificent, terrific, divine? No, not quite. just fun, that's all.
